TREATMENT FOR BED BUGS

☐ CLEAN OUT TREATMENT BE PREPARED TO VACATE FOR MINIMUM 2-3 HOURS

A CLEAN OUT TREATMENT consists of treating all rooms of the house with a liquid spray and/or dry powder dust and/or aerosol spray. Chemicals will normally be applied to all baseboards, door frames, door jams, sills, electric outlets, closets, cupboards, and all other cracks/crevices which are likely to hide bed bugs. It may also be necessary to treat dressers, wardrobes, and other furnishings.

WHAT YOU NEED TO DO for this is pick up all items of clothing, toys, food, etc., from around the perimeter of all rooms, including basement. Clean all areas thoroughly. Cover or bag all food. When home is heavily infested all items need to be cleaned (clothes, dishes, utensils, appliances, electronics). Scrub infested surfaces with stiff brush to dislodge eggs and bugs. Use a powerful vacuum cleaner to remove bed bugs from infected areas and cracks and crevices. Empty vacuum bag or compartment in a sealed garbage bag and remove from home immediately. Dismantle bed frames to expose additional bug hiding sites. Remove drawers from desks and dressers and lay upside down. Turn furniture over so that the underneath is exposed for treatment. Encase mattress and box spring with special mattress bags. Inspect mattress bags to ensure there are no holes or tears. Seal any damaged areas of mattress bag with permanent tape. Any bugs trapped in these mattress bags will eventually die. Keep mattress covered for 18-24 months to ensure bugs are dead. Caulk all holes and cracks where pipes and wires penetrate walls and floors. Fill cracks around baseboards and cove moldings. Launder all clothing, linens and curtains. If discarding any furniture, label to warn of bed bugs or remove immediately to dumpster or landfill. Preventing bed bugs from crawling onto bed, pull frame away from wall, tuck sheets and blankets so they don't have contact with the floor and place frame legs into dishes or cups of mineral oil.

☐ WHAT YOU SHOULD DO AFTERWARDS is air out premises by opening windows and doors before you enter. All counters and surfaces where food and dishes are placed should be wiped down with a damp rag. Do not soap down or you will wash away spray. Then you may put everything back in its place.

☐ NOW BE OBSERVANT. Make notes of when and where you observe bed bugs after the treatment.
After the first two (2) weeks, continued sightings are important clues for further treatment. Remember, you are in your home most of the time; the exterminators are only there occasionally. Your help is invaluable in controlling or eliminating these pests. If further treatment is needed, there will be an additional charge of $90.00.

☐ BED BUG PREPARATION consists of treating all floors, cracks and crevices, underneath of furniture, dressers, cabinets, desks, and box spring with liquid spray and aerosol.
